

Hanseatic Guild with a New Logo

The Hanseatic Guild has given itself a new logo. It is intended to serve both as a symbol for use on flyers and similar materials, as well as an official letterhead. The focus was on ensuring a simple design that aligns with the Hanse's style. For the first time, the logo is being created in both German and English. Thanks go to guild member Wolfgang Streblow (Lippstadt) and his daughter Katharina for creating the design.
